

Gleeson Residents

These pages contain a listing of people who could be determined to have resided in the town of Gleeson, Arizona since 1880.

Information for this list was obtained from the following sources:

- The Courtland Arizonan newspaper - published from February of 1909 until December of 1920.
- The Tombstone Epitaph newspaper - issues available were from July of 1915 until December of 1974.
- The Federal census reports: 1880, 1900, 1910, 1920, and 1930. The 1890 census was largely destroyed in a fire in 1921. The 1940 census was not available at the time of this writing. It is slated to be released in 2012.
- Birth Certificates, death certificates, post-office lists, and business directories

The "First Source" column indicates the issue date and page of the newspaper article or other document in which the name is FIRST found. Some people have multiple mentions. In such cases, ONLY the first date is listed. The indicator of this field is as follows:

- A: = Arizonan (Courtland) newspaper
- B: = Birth certificate/Death certificate
- D: = Directory of Businesses
- E: = Epitaph (Tombstone)
- P: = Post office box listing
- PM: = Postmaster listing
- PT: = Personal testimony

Following the indicator is a date.

- For newspapers, the date is in YYYY_MM_DD-## format, where XX is the page number.
- The census column lists Year, Page, and Line #
- For other sources, the format is YYYY_MM or just YYYY

The "Census" columns indicate each census in which that name was found. In the case of the 1880 census, the town was called "Turquoise" and those names were used. The 1900 census was taken in January, before "Gleeson" got its name (which happened in October, 1900). In that case, the census is simply known as "Enumeration district 9" for the county of Cochise in the territory of Arizona. All later census reports are available under the title of "Gleeson".

Difficulties in legibility, as well as typographical errors, make a perfect listing impossible. Furthermore, some people are referred to by different first names or different spellings of their last name. Such references, where they can be verified by other sources, have been corrected.

Persons living in Gleeson after 1974, or who lived there without their name appearing in the paper or other sources are only included if we have received personal testimony to that effect.

Finally, there were clearly hundreds of people who lived in Gleeson whose names were never mentioned in the newspapers, and for whom we have no information. These people will remain unknown to us unless other sources are brought to our attention.
